Two burglaries had been committed in London. On the morning of the 13th, two men named O'Lochlan and Hewitt, were detected by a policeman named Rowlett making t gir exit from the residence of Lord Chestiam—of Grosvenor Square. Hewitt struck the policeman with a life preserver and made off with £2000 worth of pate, it wells at the A phage happened howaver. jewelry, etc. A phase on happened however to come past, and Rowlett jamping on the box prevailed on the driver to give chase. They were both ultimately secured. The other occurred at the house of a Mr. Edmunds, in Gower street, on the morning of the 16th. Two men named Eagin and Singett, with an accomplace, had effected an nett, with an accomplice, had effected an entrance and were making their escape when a policeman named Baker detected them. In this case the officer was also attacked with a life preserver and nearly killed. The burglars were however eventually captured and proved to be ticket of leave men.

ELECTION ADDRESSES.

Some months ago Mr. E. B. Eurles le off with a stunning address to the electors of this city. But as the election did not comon, the address, like many other literary pr ductions, has gone out of print; although is intimated by a morning cotemporary the Mr. Earles is still in the field for legislativ honors. Should a second edition appear, we shall pass it under review, in due cours The first bona fide address now in the field anticipatory of the Proclamation to summon good men and true, is that of Mr. E. J. Jackson, which we publish this morning. His platform of principles are tolerably good, so far as they go. They are "free trade, equal taxation, no extravagance, good salaries for public servants, non-sectarian schools, country roads, toleration, and no State church.' There are very few persons, we believe, who will find fault with those principles in the abstract. There is nothing very original in them. They are old stand-bys in the country. Equal taxation, we presume, means treating country people like towns-people As a highly respectable man, as a thrifty farmer, and as a candidate for the Assembly the presumption is that Mr. Jackson would no do violence to one of his principles by voting to tax city improvements and exempt the improvements of farmers. This is a matter that those whe hold property in the city as well as voters in the district, ought to inquire into Hitherto the fine and costly farm-houses and buildings in Victoria and other districts have been exempted, whilst the humble me chanic or tradesman in town has had to pay taxes on his dwelling or shop. The ex-members enacted the law. Mr. Jackson, inferentially, says he is opposed to it. We shall see. But it is so common for candidates to promise before they are elected and break their pledges atterward, that it will be well to ventilate the subject before the election. There are other points to which we shall refer hereafter. There is a great deal of non-commitalism in Mr. Jackson's address but so far as we know him, he is a strictly honorable man, and we hope that if elected he may prove an independent member. Mr. Jackson is an untried public man; so the electors have more reason to inquire particularly what his views are on subjects on which he has not touched. The impression appear to obtain that of the four candidates up for Victoria District at present, Trimble, Elliot, and Jackson are the men. There may b others sprung on the electors however.

THE CITY SURVEY. The action of the City Council on Monday evening in reference to the regulation of street boundaries may serve as an instalment of what is required to be done, but not much more. From the notice of his intention to introduce a by-law for fixing the boundaries of Government and Broad streets given by Councillor Copland, and the fact of Messrs Pattrick & Co. being recommended to adop the Government survey in creeting their building, the Council evidently intend that the survey of Government street already made by the Deputy Surveyor General shall be taken as the foundation for the regulation of the rest of the city. As to the propriety of adopting the lines in question as made use of by lot owners on the street there cannot be much difference of opinion among the public. Carroll's corner has always formed a starting point for the Government surveys, so that the probabilities are that the lines of Government street as determined by them will be found best to tally with the laying out of the rest of the city. If the Govern ment surveyor maintains that Government street is correctly laid down, then there is a base line with which the remaining streets and boundaries of the city must be made to correspond. It has been alleged that there is a difference of opinion however as to the correctness of the lines of that street as laid down by the City Engineer and the Acting Colonial Surveyor. We cannot see how any great difference could well occur in so short a distance. Whatever may be the case however, permanent buildings have been erected in accordance with the Government survey, that if there is any doubt on the the owners should have the benefit of it. There will, we think, be found land enough in the city to give every one what he is fully entitled to. There may of course be some shifting of boundaries, but it is better done now than hereafter. Although the contemplated action of the City Council in passing the By-Law in question may do very well as a foundation for more extensive and complete operations, yet the Council must not rest satisfied with going so far. The same kind of difficulties at present encountered by lot owners desirous of building permanent structures on Gov-ernment street, will be almost inevitably met with in other parts of the town, so long as a general survey is left undone. Some will go by the lines laid down by one surveyor and some by another. Many will not make any substantial improvements until they can be assured that they will not be disturbed, which can only be the case when we have a general survey to go by. The demand upon the Council for the survey of Government street, will be repeated in other parts of the town, and a great deal of valuable time wasted unless the question is settled once for all. The time and expense have both been urged somewhat as an ob stacle in the way of a general survey at the present moment. We are disposed to consider that both of these objections have been exaggerated. We are at a loss to conceive how, for example, it would take a surveyor six months to run and fix the lines of the various streets and boundaries of the city, for that is all that is required. We do not want that the Surveyor should set off the lines of each man's lot ; that is a matter to be looked after by each individual at his own expense. What we do require is that the central line of all the streets be defined, and permanently laid down by stone monuments at convenient points, say in the centre of intersections, and a map be constructed in accordance with this survey, showing the width of the streets in figures, the angles made by the intersec tion of streets, and with the meridian, the different blocks divided up into the same number of lots bearing the same relative proportion to each other as on the Government official map; for we are inclined to think the to al actual quantity of land will not be found to tally with the amount called for by the old maps, there being in all likelihood an overplus. This then should be done no matter wat it costs. Once completed, the time of rectifying boundaries of private property. Tle suggestion of Councillor Lewis for ission of surveyors to determine upon he best mode of reducing the present chaotic state of the city boundaries to some degree of order is one in which we must concur. In a natter presenting so many difficulties, and of so very great importance to the whole community, too much care can not be taken o have every thing carried out after the best dan. We know that surveyors as well as loctors have their differences sometimes, and by taking the decision of several of hem we may arrive at something like the

To the Electors

VICTORIA DISTRICT.

(*ENTLEMEN :-YOU WILL SHORTLY to be called upon to exercise that, to every lover of freedom, all-important right of electing some one rom among yourselves to represent you in the orthooming flours of Assembly.

The qualifications necessary for so responsible an office, ye ware fully nequainted with. It would be presented us in me, therefore, to dwell upon them. It is for you to show at the polls, whether I am justified in supposing that I possess them in sufficiently a supposing that I possess them in sufficiently are to become one of the representatives of a constituency so important as that of Victoria District.

The limits of this Address will not permit me to enter into any lengthy discussion of the principles which I would address as a representative of the bull of the principle of the principle of those of the greatest prominence.

The FREE TRADE, to which, in a great measure, he prosperity of this is and is due, should, in my opinion, be maintained in its integrity. In any scheme of TAXATION brought before the corrected tives of the people, I shall, if honored with our confidence, endeavour to adjust the breen_as lightly, but as equally as possible, upon all leates.

I shall use my best offer's to prevent EXTRA-VAGANCE In the expenditure of the public lunds a but, at the same time, I hold that capacity and luteerly in their servants should not be lost to the guille by a system of small salaries.

Any system of COMMON SCHOOLS based upon no rectarian principles, maintained in part by publiculuds, and under the supervision of the Government shall receive my warmest upport,

The opening up of the country by lines of roads carefully surveyed and finished, year by year, in; substantial manner, is a necessity felt by all, especi-ally by farmers, and will receive my auxious atten-tion.

A member of the Church of England from my childhood, I desire nothing more for her, than that she should stand upon her own merits, supported by her own adherents and seeking no assisted from the State—nurther than the protection seesage

Such, gentlemen, are the leading principles with which i come here you to solicit your sufrages at the ensuing election; should they meet with your approval. I trust in my receive such unmitakenble approval. I trust in my receive such unmitakenble in the property of the property of the highest hon-our in your power to bestow, it, and the highest hon-our in your power to bestow, it, and a Representa-tive of the Electors of Victoria District.

Celebration of the Fourth of July on San

The anniversary of the day of American Independence was celebrated by the detachment of troops under command of Capt. Bissell, 9th Infantry, at San Juan, in a very enthusiastic manner, and caused infinite delight to all present. Shortly after noon a sumptuous dinner was laid out in the company's mess room, to which a large company o citizens, including a number of the fair sex, repaired. The room was very tastefully decorated with evergreens, with here and there a star, formed of side-arms, which had a brilliant and striking effect. On the door a brilliant and striking effect. On the door were the words "welcome all," a motto which was most liberally construed inside, as the reception was most cordial and hearty, and those in charse of the entartainment vied with each other in showing courtesy and hos pitality to their guests. An efficient band was stationed at one end of the room, which added much to the pleasure of the hour by their enlivening strains. Prior to the commencement of the repast an extract from the Declaration of Independence was read, and a few appropriate ternarks made by Sergeant Jones, U. S. A.; after which the time honored Star Spangled Banner was sung in ex-Jones, U. S. A.; after which the time honored Star Spangled Banner was sung in excellent style. To the good fare the company did ample justice; in fact so popular was this species of amusement that the cry was "still they come," for a considerable period. Dinner over, all hands adjourned, to the prairie outside the camp, where a number of sports took place. Everything passed off most satisfastorily, and all (except those who participated in a ball at the town, which was kept up with great spirit until the small hours) retired well satisfied with the day's pleasure, and with feelings of gratitude to Capt. Bissell and his company, who were indefatigable in their exertions to please all, and to render every one happy, an attempt in which they perfectly succeeded. The officers from the British camp were also present, and seemed perfectly succeeded. The onices from British camp were also present, and seemed therearth to enjoy the proceedings. The British camp were also present, and seemed thoroughly to enjoy the proceedings. The following was the programme:

Hop, Step. and Jump, won by private Callaghan, U. S. A.; a Foot Race of 100 yards, won by private Newbery, R. M. L. I.; High Leap, Standing, and High Leap Running, both won by private Ryan, U. S. Desergion — A seaman named Jug. Mel-Desertion .- A seaman named Jno. Mel-burne was charged yesterday in the Police Court, by the captain of the ship Vancouver, with deserting his ship. It appeared from the statement of the captain that Melburne had left without leave, and gone on board the Grappler to enter the service, but that they declined to have him. The seaman stated that the Vancouver was a religious ship, and he would rather submit to punish ship, and he would rather submit to prinsing mont than return to her. The imagistrate held that as the man had again returned to his ship he could not entertain a charge of desertion, he would therefore order him to be taken back, and if he refused to obey orders, he might then be brought up again.

DIRECT TRADE WITH JAPAN .-- We under stand that it is the intention of Capt. Pearse of the ship Raversham, should sufficient inducement be held out to him, to open a direct trade between this port and Japan. The Haversham is a first-class teak built ship of 489 tons register, with a carrying capacity of about 700 tons. The splendid order in which she is now turning out the valuable goods consigned to Messrs. Vignolo & Co., is a sufconsigned to Messis. Vigino a Cop. is a sin-ficient guarantee to shippers. The advan-tages of establishing direct trade with foreign ports are too manifest to need comment, and we trust that Captain Pearse will meet with the encouragement from the merchants of Victoria which his enterprise deserves.

MAYOR'S COURT .- City Inspector v. Bunster This adjourned case came up yesterday be-fore His Worship the Mayor. The City Inspector informed the court that Mr. Bunster's property on Johnson street appeared to have been erected a little over two feet back from the line of street. He also added that Mr Bunster had removed the obstructions on Burster had removed the obstructions on the same day on which he last appeared be-fore the court. His Worship, taking into con-sideration that the defendant might have been under a missapprehension, said he would not impose a fine, and after cautioning him against a repetition of the offence, ordered him to pay the costs of the summons.

GAME LAWS .- The police have received instructions to watch closely all violators of the Game Preservation Act. Attention is especially drawn to section II which makes provision for preserving Fish in Victoria Arm, and enacts, "That from and after the passage of this Act, no person shall use or passage of this Act, no person stand use of employ any net, seine, drag-net, or other engine of a like description for the purpose of taking or capturing Fish in Victoria Arm above Point Ellice, or in any lake, pond, or standing water in this colony, under a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds ($2.00) to be accepted in a summary manner before a penalty in a recovered in a summary manuer before any justice of the peace."

ERRATUM .- In the letter of our Toronto correspondent, published yesterday, it was stated that the Imperial Government had offered to guarantee an annual grant of "£62.500," to open an overland wag:n road from Lake Superior to British Columbia. It ought to have been "$62.500" per annum, instead of £62,500 seaman of H. M. S. Sutlej, charged with cutting off the tail of a Chinaman named Ah Long, and robbing him of $25, was resumed in the Police Court yesterday. Mr. Bishop Toronto and its neighborhood, will remember Long, and robbing him of $25, was resumed in the Police Court yesterday. Mr. Bishop for the prosecution, called several witnesses, one of whom, a scannan named Leary (who was an unwilling witness) stated that he was in company with the two prisoners, when the Chinaman came up, and "gave them some law," whereupon Bissent took hold of the Chinaman in front, while Kemp removed the appendage. Witness could state nothing at to the abstraction of money from the Chinaman's pockets. The caudal ornament was subsequently exhibited at the half-way hones as a trophy by Bissent. All the parties concerned were in liquor at the time. Mr. Bishop said he could not do it without langle ter, but was prepared to tender evidence that a Chinaman would not part with his tail tors $100. TORONTO, June 1st, 1863 THE CANADIAN MILITIA.

When the McDonald-Sicotte Government came into power, the militia was in a very disorganized state. They, however, went to work with energy and in a short time the volunteer force was raised to 30,000 men. The Governor General has taken very great interest in the movement, and has do Gale was accordingly bound over to be of good behavior for three months.

Lord Clifden maintained bis position throughout as favorite for the Derby, and next to him the most money was entrasted to Sacchorometer, Gillie, Carnival, and Mac.roni (winner of the two thousand guinea stakes.) The last named horse proved to be the winner, bearing the lavoid in the other.
